Let's Start!

This city is great!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about directions to places in a limited range of social situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can say where a place is.
- I can tell someone where something is located.
- I can ask what, when, where questions.

Ask your partner:

- What city do you think is great? Why?
- What are the "sights" (interesting places) you can see there?

Let's Explore!

Sally and Vanessa talk about London.

* "London" is the capital of England and Europe's largest city. It began as a Roman town 2000 years old.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally: Hey Vanessa!

Vanessa: Hi Sally! How's it going in London?

Sally: This city is great! It has so much history.

Vanessa: What did you like best?

Sally: I loved walking along the River Thames.

Vanessa: Where is that?

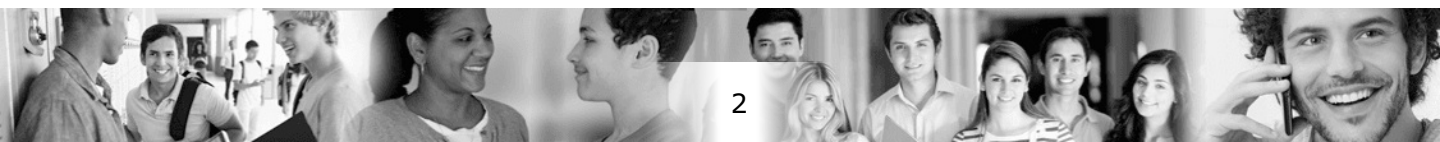

Sally: It flows through the whole city. The Globe Theatre is across the river. It's on the south bank. It's one of the world's most famous theaters. It's a reproduction of the theater where William Shakespeare performed his plays. Not too far from there is Tower Bridge. It's a very famous bridge that crosses the Thames.

Vanessa: What do you want to see next?

Sally: Oh, I want to see the London Eye, Westminster and Buckingham Palace. They're all located within walking distance of each other.

Vanessa: Take lots of pictures!

Sally: Of course!

Let's Practice!

Let's practice saying where things are.

Instructions: Practice reading the sentences aloud.

1. It flows through the whole city.
2. The Globe Theatre is across the river.
3. It's on the south bank.
4. Not too far from there is Tower Bridge.
5. They're all located within walking distance of each other.

Let's Practice!

What did Sally like best? What does she want to see next?

Instructions: Read the questions on the left. Check off the correct answer in the table.

	It flows through the whole city.	This city is incredible!	I want to see the London Eye.	I loved walking along the river.

Learning Points

Talking About Places and Location

You can ask about places with the question Where is ... ? or Where is that?

When you say where things are, you can use these expressions:

It's not far from here.

It's located ...

Not too far from there is ...

Examples:

- Westminster is not far from here.
- They're all located within walking distance of each other.
- Not too far from there is Tower Bridge.

Prepositions of Place

When you say where things are, you use prepositions of place like along, through, across, on or at.

You walk along a path, like a river.

You go through a space, like a city.

A bridge goes across a river.

Something is located on a river bank.

You use at to talk about a place, like a pub.

Examples:

• Sally: I loved walking along the River Thames.

Vanessa: Where is that?

Sally: It flows through the whole city.
