Let's Start!

Listen to these instructions!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about travel and transportation.
- I can ask and give simple instructions.

Ask your partner:

- When are instructions important?
- When are instructions not important?

Let's Explore!

The tour guide is giving instructions. What are they?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

This concludes the tour today. I hope you enjoyed your visit. Stonehenge is the most famous prehistoric monument in the world. Take a few more minutes to explore this wonderful site.

As you leave, please follow this path to leave the park. Your bus is located in parking area #6. We ask you not to leave any personal items at the site. Please use the trash bins to keep this place magnificent for everyone. They are located at the exits.

As you board the bus, would you be so kind as to occupy the same seat? You can take a few more pictures, but please don't be late! The bus returns to leave to London in 30 minutes.

Let's Practice!

The tour guide is giving final instructions.

Instructions: Draw a line from the first part of the statement on the left to the second part on the right.

Giving Instructions

There are different ways to give instructions.

You can use Imperatives, like "Follow me ..."

Very polite instructions start with a phrase like "We ask you ..." or "Would you be so kind as to ..."

Imperatives	Phrases
Follow this path to leave the park.	We ask you to not leave any personal items at the site.
Please use the trash bins located at the exits.	Would you be so kind as to occupy the same seat.
Please don't be late!
